PRESIDENT/VICE-PRESIDENT CANDIDATES of the United States of America

The spring issue of FRONT LINE (presidential primary was March 15) documented Hillary Clinton and Donald Trump's positions on issues. Since then, additional information has become available concerning their backgrounds or stands on issues, which we have updated. Libertarian Gary Johnson is now included in this summary, since he will be on all 50 state ballots.

This is not intended to be a comprehensive review, but it is a brief highlight of what distinguishes each candidate. There are clear differences between the Democratic, Republican and Libertarian parties as well as the candidates themselves. (See Page E-5 for the comparisons of the Republican and Democrat Platforms.) Whether it's the how the candidates view the role of judges in making law, the raising of taxes, or national defense, the differences will make a significant impact on the nation depending on who is ultimately elected.

Information is obtained from various reliable sources and presented through the lens of the nation's highest law: the United States Constitution. News sources are footnoted; otherwise sources used were ProCon.org, Ballotpedia.com or the candidate's websites. None of the information provided is intended, nor should it be construed, to be an endorsement of any party or candidate. It is presented to educate and inform our readers, so they can use their God-given discernment and exercise their voting privilege for the good of the nation. We have not included candidates in this review who have not been certified for all 50 state ballots. The Libertarian Party has qualified for all 50 states, Green Party for 43 and Constitution Party for 23.¹

THE JUDICIARY

DONALD TRUMP, on May 18 released a list of 11 candidates he would consider to fill the vacancy at the Supreme Court. "The list includes six federal appeals-court judges appointed by former Republican President George W. Bush, as well as five state Supreme Court justices with conservative credentials. ... The Susan B. Anthony List, an anti-abortion group, said Mr. Trump's list was 'exceptionally strong'."²

HILLARY CLINTON, as former State Senator, U.S. Secretary of State (Obama Administration) and wife of former President Bill Clinton, is no stranger to American politics. Clinton speaks of "litmus tests" for an appointment to the Court. "I do have a litmus test, I have a bunch of litmus tests, because the next president could get as many as three appointments," the former first lady responded. "It's one of the many reasons why we can't turn the White House over to the Republicans again."³ Her nominees would be required to support gay rights and abortion rights, overturn free speech decisions (Citizens United), and re-define traditional marriage laws.⁴

GARY JOHNSON (L) does not have a statement on his web site about the Judiciary, but does support separation of church and state, legalizing and regulating marijuana and abortion on demand while opposing further gun control laws.⁵

NATIONAL DEFENSE/RADICAL ISLAM/IMMIGRATION

DONALD TRUMP has released a 10-point plan "boosting defense spending, rebuilding the military while calling for a new strategy to defeat the Islamic State. ...

Asking military generals to present a plan within 30 days to defeat and destroy ISIS, immediately after taking office; asking Congress to eliminate the defense sequester; building an active Army of about 540,000; building a Marine Corps based on 36 battalions; building a Navy nearing 350 surface ships and submarines; building an Air Force of at least 1,200 fighter aircraft [and building a new state-of-the-art missile defense system]⁶ He has called for a wall across the southern border to be paid for by Mexico and called for a temporary, but total, ban on Muslims entering the country, especially a stop of Syrians.

ProCon documents Trump's calling the Iranian Nuclear Deal as "dangerous," proclaiming "a nation without borders not a nation," and calling for an end to sanctuary cities.

HILLARY CLINTON has the most national security experience of any other candidate, which should make her a leader in this area. Unfortunately, that experience may be one of her biggest vulnerabilities. This includes the lingering Benghazi controversy, where Middle East expert Ari Lieberman says her "track record of failure and fabrication puts military voters on edge."⁷ "She 'led the policy shift in which our government changed sides in Libya – shifting support to the Muslim Brotherhood and its allies ...'"⁸ As the NY Post notes, her top lieutenant, Huma Abelin worked as an editor for a radical Islamic journal for 10 years.⁹ ProCon records her as favoring a Palestine State, in strong agreement with the Iranian Nuclear Arms Deal, closing Guantanamo Bay, and favoring women in combat. She tweeted last November, Muslims "have nothing whatsoever to do with terrorism."¹⁰

The FBI released its investigation into her handling of classified materials. Her recorded her answer 39 times to their questions was, "I do not recall." The ongoing email/private server scandal indicated the highest secure information including identification of CIA operatives appeared in unsecure emails.¹¹ The Washington Post's, Daniel Halper, confronted her about "recklessly mishandling classified information."¹² He reported "The markings on the email state it will be declassified on May 28, 2033, and that information in the note is being redacted because it contains 'information regarding foreign governors' and because it contains 'foreign relations or foreign activities of the United States, including confidential sources'."¹³

On immigration, ProCon documents Clinton as favoring to allow Syrian refugees into the United States and saying "Congress must pass comprehensive immigration reform that provides a path to citizenship ... and brings millions of hardworking people into the formal economy." Clinton's policies indicate that little will change in the war against ISIS in a Clinton administration.¹⁴

GARY JOHNSON (L) Ballotpedia says Johnson describes himself as "noninterventionist." "Johnson opposed the war in Iraq and in Afghanistan, says the Iran Nuclear Deal 'funds terrorism' and called ISIS 'today's fascism.'" ProCon documents his opposition to building a border fence, favoring Sanctuary Cities, a pathway to citizenship with "an embrace of immigration as something really good," favors drafting of women for combat and says, "We need to take our fair share of [Syrian] refugees."

SANCTITY OF LIFE/ABORTION

DONALD TRUMP has repeatedly declared that he is pro-life, but that like Reagan, he has evolved on this issue after seeing a baby targeted for abortion live and grow into a "great child." He says "Planned Parenthood should absolutely be defunded."¹⁵ He has pledged to fight Obamacare partially on the grounds that it funds abortion.

HILLARY CLINTON views abortion as an absolute right of every woman on demand with little to no limitations is well documented and seems to be evolving from that of a privacy concern to one of absolute "positive right" with constitutional guarantee of unfettered access.¹⁶ ProCon documents her saying "I'm proud to stand with Planned Parenthood, I'll never stop fighting to protect the ability and right of every woman in this country to make her own health decisions."

GARY JOHNSON (L) His website says "individuals should be allowed to make their own choices in their own personal lives. Abortion is a deeply personal choice." ProCon documents his support of Planned Parenthood funding.

ECONOMY/TAXES

DONALD TRUMP in 2015 estimated that within a few years our debt would turn us into another Greece and a point of no return.³⁸ Trump's solution is a plan to bring back jobs from overseas in great numbers. "The Tax Policy Center analysis estimates that Trump's tax plan would cut taxes for everyone."¹⁷

HILLARY CLINTON economic policies target the middle class, promising to secure their economic futures and expand their opportunities through greater access to education and more evenly distributed economic growth.¹⁸ "In order to achieve strong economic growth, Clinton believes that it is important to invest [federal and state tax dollars] in education and infrastructure, promote small business growth and increase workforce participation, especially for women."¹⁹

GARY JOHNSON (L) ProCon documents his opposition to the income tax and payroll taxes with a replacement of a single consumption tax. His website says "By 2017 the national debt will be $20 BILLION – unsustainable and arguably the greatest threat to our national security."

EDUCATION

DONALD TRUMP has called Common Core a disaster and calls for an end to it.²⁰ He is for school choice and considers reforms such as school choice, charter schools, vouchers, and opportunity scholarships a positive form of competition.²¹ He recently focused on the disaster of long time Democrat-controlled big cities with corruption and failing schools as in need of private innovative attention.

HILLARY CLINTON believes that starting children in government educational systems earlier on the front end and free college tuition on the back end with a national curriculum in the middle defines the platforms of the candidates on this issue. "Believing that early development is crucial for later success, Clinton also plans to expand early learning through a proposal that would give every 4-year-old in America access to high-quality preschool education."²² "While Clinton still straddles the fence on Common Core, the fact that she has one foot on the other side of this issue is extremely telling."²³ When her husband won the White House in 1992, she was working with Marc Tucker who spelled out how to nationalize and control by the elite all education in America – and in essence spelled out the plan for the current Common Core mandates.²⁴ (For further information, order The Long War and Common Core. See details on back page.)

GARY JOHNSON (L) His website documents his opposition to a federal role in education. He opposes Common Core saying educational excellence lying in innovation, freedom and flexibility. ProCon documents his support of charter schools and his opposition to schools being gun-free zones.

ENERGY

DONALD TRUMP ProCon documents Trump as favoring new fossil fuel leases on federal land, and fracking so as to become energy independent from importing oil from hostile nations. He calls renewable energy a big mistake based on a misinformed belief that carbon emissions cause global climate change.

HILLARY CLINTON ProCon quote her on climate change. "Climate change is one of the most serious challenges we face; it's real, it's driven by human activity." ProCon also quotes her as giving three reasons why she does not support fracking.

GARY JOHNSON (L) has come out for a carbon tax with ProCon documenting his belief in man-made global warming, yet his support for fossil fuels and nuclear power.

FAMILY/CHURCH/MARRIAGE

DONALD TRUMP ProCon documents Trump calling for repeal of the Johnson Amendment that threatens religious institutions right to freely preach, and favoring local decisions about shower room/bathroom use. "Religious liberty is so important." Trump's disagreement with the courts decision legalizing gay marriage throughout the country was not on moral grounds, but rather Constitutional; saying that he believed the states should make the change, not the Supreme Court.

HILLARY CLINTON ProCon documented her statement following the June 26 Supreme Court's opinion on legalizing same-sex marriage, "I am celebrating today's landmark victory," and quoted her Twitter post supporting LGBT people and transgenders use of any and all shower rooms and bathrooms.

GARY JOHNSON (L) “Responsible adults should be free to marry whom they want, arm themselves if they want, make their own decisions about their bodies, and lead their personal lives as they see fit — as long as no harm is done to others. And they should be able to do so without unconstitutional scrutiny by the NSA, the ATF, the DEA or any other government agency.”²⁵ “Religious freedom, as a category [is] just being a black hole. ... under the guise of religious freedom, anybody can do anything.”²⁶ ProCon documents Johnson as favoring eliminating churches tax exempt status, supporting suicide, opposes allowing bakers to refuse cakes for homosexuals based on the bakers religious convictions, favors transgenders using all and every bathroom.

GUNS/LAW AND ORDER/ BLACK LIVES MATTER/COPS

DONALD TRUMP in his CPAC speech, sounded many themes popular with Republican conservatives. “I am pro-life,” he said. “I am against gun control.” In a policy statement released on his campaign website, he calls for protecting our second amendment rights and creating a national right to carry. ProCon quotes Trump saying, “I am a 2nd amendment person.” ProCon documents Trump addressing BLM and police, “we have to give power back to the police because crime is rampart ... we have to have law and order.”

HILLARY CLINTON has an evolving position on gun rights. As a candidate for the Senate in 2000, she advocated strict gun control, but backed off that in 2008 when she took on Obama for president.²⁷ More recently, Clinton said she would tighten gun regulations on sales using legislation and executive power.”²⁸ Addressing BLM/Cops she demanded the nationalization of policing at the July NAACP meeting saying “clear national guidelines on the use of force, especially lethal force,’ must be imposed on all police departments.”²⁹ ProCon documents her saying, “Black lives matter. Everyone in this country should stand firmly behind that.”

GARY JOHNSON (L) ProCon documents Johnson as supporting concealed carry saying, “Restrictions on gun ownership will only encourages outlaws to have heavy ammunition and high-calibre weapons.” Additionally, they document Johnson’s support of Black Lives Matter.

HEALTHCARE

DONALD TRUMP has vowed to end Obamacare; ProCon has Trump saying it is a disaster and calls for it to be repealed.

HILLARY CLINTON considers health care a basic human right and promises to defend the Affordable Care Act (Obamacare) and build on it by cracking down on prescription costs and holding drug companies accountable to invest in research and not profits, and to protect women’s access to health care.³⁰ On January 27, 2016, Clinton identified her failure to pass healthcare reform in the 1990’s as her greatest political regret.³¹ ProCon documents her as saying Obamacare is working.

GARY JOHNSON (L) Ballotpedia says he opposes “government-mandated health insurance, “the Affordable Care Act and supports cuts to Medicare and Medicaid.

SHORT LINES

Defending West Point Cadets’ Right to Pray

“The United States Military Academy’s football team hasn’t had a winning season since 2010. So when West Point’s Black Knights beat Temple University 28-13 on September 2, it seemed more than appropriate to the team to do what countless other college football teams do in victory – Coach Jeff Moken asked an assistant coach to pray, and the video of the team’s prayer was posted on Facebook, where it caught the eye of an anti-Christian activist who complained to West Point officials. The video was then taken down and replaced with a video that cut out the prayer.

Trying to explain away this unconscionable action, the superintendent of West Point, Lt. Gen. Robert L. Caslen, told The Washington Post that although maybe 90 percent of the people there supported the prayer, “... there were some concerns, and I think they’re valid concerns.”

I, for one, am concerned. I am concerned that instead of instilling leadership or imparting warfighting skill, our U.S. military training apparatus is now focused on editing out the religious practices of its cadets.

This is just one more example of the growing track record in the Obama military to eradicate the practice of Christianity among our brave service men and women.

Instead of building young men into much-needed leaders in the U.S. Army, officials at West Point are more concerned with listening to endless complaining of those who want our warriors to be stripped of their most precious armor – their faith. ...”

U. S. Congressional Candidates

What We Need to Look for in a Candidate

We are all familiar with the first sentence of the Constitution of the United States which begins, “We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union ...” Perhaps fewer are familiar with the first section of the first article immediately following that preamble. Order and priority were not overlooked by the men who drafted our governing documents and who vested the power of that new government where it belonged, in the hands of the people of the nation. WE the PEOPLE had thrown off the tyranny of man’s rule through monarchy and reclaimed our sovereignty under the laws of Nature and of Nature’s God. Therefore, it is right and reasonable that Article I, Section 1 of the Constitution states, “All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives. Section 2 goes on to describe the People’s House which “shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States ...” It is only after the Legislative Branch is defined that the Executive and the Judicial branches are outlined, in that order. This is not an afterthought, but a logical progression of what stems from “of the People, by the People, and for the People.”

Samuel Adams, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, held a high standard for those who would serve in the government. “Nothing is more essential to the establishment of manners in a State than that all persons employed in places of power and trust be men of unexceptionable characters. The public cannot be too curious concerning the characters of public men.”¹ Character is some indication of future behavior; “Neither the wisest constitution, nor the wisest laws will secure the liberty and happiness of a people whose manners are universally corrupt.”² We can learn something about our nation by the type of men and women who are elected from among us to serve in the United States Congress. The admonition of our founders to choose wise, moral, and religious persons is still sound advice. A good indicator of what our representatives will do in office is to look at what they have done in the past and who endorses that behavior. That is why we provide information on endorsements and committees for each candidate when available.³ This information may only be some indication of what a candidate believes or will do in the future. It is always good to remain curious and continue to ask the right questions.

We have included a brief description of the groups that rate and endorse candidates. Again, the adage “deeds, not words” is important in evaluating each group’s philosophy. Their support for legislation is their “deeds.” Most of these groups have promoted legislation that causes them to be positioned either in the progressive/socialist/liberal camp or the conservative/pro-family/free-market camp. There are hundreds of issue groups interested in your candidate. FRONT LINE encourages our readers to explore further the candidates that appeal to them and then get involved in their election. The information on Congressional candidates is limited and meant to provide a base from which to learn more about each candidate. Where available, the candidates’ websites are included for further research.

Groups Considered Liberal or Progressive

American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU): Founded 90 years ago, the ACLU is the progressive left’s most famous litigator. For their priorities, see www.aclu.org/features/public-policy on the web or “The ACLU vs. America” by Alan Sears and Craig Osten, published in 2005 by the Alliance Defense Fund.

Citizens for Global Solutions (CGS): CGS is a One-World group that favors UN sovereignty over and above the U.S. Constitution. Affiliated with the old World Federalists; Current priorities are supporting Cap and Trade, the International Criminal Court, the START Treaty and gender equality. Publishes a report card of votes with a scale from “A+” (100%) to “F.” See <http://globalsolutions.org/capitol-hill/report-card-for-description-of-votes-cast-in-u.s.-senate-and-house-that-were-scored>.

EMILY’s List (EL): “EMILY’s List is dedicated to building a progressive America by electing pro-choice Democratic women to office. ... EMILY’s List has helped elect 18 women to state and local office in Missouri. ... Only two women, Jean Carnahan and Claire McCaskill (both EMILY’s List candidates), have represented Missouri in the U.S. Senate. ... Has raised $78,403,309 for candidates since 1985.” See <http://emilyslist.org>.

National Association of Education (NEA): The teacher’s union that supports a progressive agenda in the classrooms. See www.nea.org. Although the NEA describes itself as a “professional employee organization,” it is incorporated as a professional association in a few states and as a labor union in most.

Planned Parenthood Missouri (PP); Planned Parenthood Advocates of Kansas and Mid-Missouri (PPAKM): Operates abortion and family planning clinics across the nation; involved in many states teaching comprehensive sex education classes in public schools. See the “Short Lines” article in this FRONT LINE regarding the Parkway School District in St. Louis County. <http://ppakm.org/2016-endorsements/>.

Sierra Club (SC): An environmental group dedicated to shutting down coal plants, lead mines (Missouri was the home to the world’s largest lead mining operations.), drilling for oil and gas; anti-automobile – favors walking, bikes and public transit; promotes smart-growth, federal and state control of water and wilderness forests (no logging). See <http://sierraclub.org/politics/endorsements/>.

TheMiddleClass.org (TMC): A progressive group founded in 2003 that rates the candidates according to “a ‘middle-class standard’ of living in the U.S. has come to mean having a secure job, a safe and stable home, access to health care, retirement security ...” Supports such legislation as the Livable Communities Act of 2009 that set up a federal government agency in HUD (Housing Department) which made “comprehensive planning grants to coordinate [local] land use, housing, transportation, and infrastructure planning ... and develop regional plans to meet these needs.” (National zoning of how Americans live, work and plan.) See <http://themiddleclass.org/browse/legislators>.

Women’s Political Caucus (WPC): “We support the right of women to control their own reproduction [abortion, etc.] without government intrusion ... [and] equitable public and private health care insurance coverage for women, including family planning, birth control and prenatal care ... equal pay for equal work.” See <http://www.nwpc.org/2016endorsements>.

Groups Considered Conservative

Eagle Forum PAC (EFPAC): A pro-life, pro-family political action committee of Eagle Forum that “supports American sovereignty. ... American identity. ... the Constitution. ... traditional education. ... [and] exposes the radical feminists” For the details of these goals, see www.eagleforum.org/election/endorse.html.

Missouri Farm Bureau (FARM-PAC): Endorses candidates that best support agriculture.

Gun Owners of America Political Victory Fund (GOA PVF): A pro-Second Amendment political action committee of Gun Owners of America. See <http://goapvf.org/>.

Heritage Action for America (HAA): An offshoot of the Heritage Foundation in D.C., with focus on limited government, freedom of religion, economics, national defense, marriage, local education, etc. Uses recorded votes on issues identified prior to votes to tally percentages.

Missouri Right to Life PAC (MRL PAC): A pro-life state political action committee of Missouri Right to Life, “educating, legislating, and activating citizens in the cause of life. A rating of PR is pro-life, M is mixed and AL is anti-life. See <http://www.missourilifepac.org/2016/general.html>

National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB): An organization of small, independent businesses promoting free enterprise, entrepreneurship, capitalism, and the preservation of small business. See <http://www.nfib.com/>.

National Rifle Association Political Victory Fund (NRA PVF): “The NRA Political Victory Fund (NRA-PVF) is NRA’s political action committee. The NRA-PVF ranks political candidates (irrespective of party affiliation) based on voting records, public statements and their responses to an NRA-PVF questionnaire. ... NRA relies on a very simple premise: when provided with the facts, the nation’s elected officials will recognize that ‘gun control’ schemes are an infringement on the Second Amendment and a proven failure in fighting crime.” All grades are obvious except “AQ,” which is a pro-gun candidate whose rating is based solely on the candidate’s responses to the NRA-PVF Candidate Questionnaire and who does not have a voting record on Second Amendment issues.” See <http://www.nrapvf.org/grades-endorsements/2012/Missouri.aspx>. In Missouri, the Second Amendment Coalition of Missouri rates elected officials according to the NRA standards. See www.sacmo.org/nra_ratings.htm.

National Taxpayers Union (NTU): “America’s oldest grassroots taxpayer organization working for lower taxes, smaller government, accountability from public officials, and economic freedom.” See <http://www.ntu.org/on-capitol-hill/ntu-rates-congress/2016-ntu-rates-congress.pdf>.

Susan B. Anthony (SBA): “Goal of the SBA List Candidate Fund is to increase the percentage of pro-life women in Congress and high public office.” See www.sbc-list.org.

Roy Blunt (Republican, Incumbent)

BIO: Roy Blunt was born in Niangua, Missouri, on January 10, 1950. He currently lives in Strafford, Missouri, with his wife Abigail. They have four children and six grandchildren. Roy is Christian (Baptist). Roy received his B.A. in History from Southwest Baptist University (1970) and his M.A. in History and Government from Missouri State University (1972). He began his political career as Clerk in Greene County in 1972 and has served as Representative in the U.S. House from 1996-2010. He is currently a Missouri Senator in the United States Senate.

ISSUES: Voted Yes on the Trade Act of 2015; Yes on the 2016 Budget proposal which is a non-binding resolution used to create appropriations bills; Yes on Defense spending authorization which included $5 billion in cuts and language preventing the closure of the Guantanamo Bay military prison; Yes to filibuster the Iran nuclear deal; No on the confirmation of Loretta Lynch as Attorney General; and Yes to stop sanctuary policies by withholding federal money from “sanctuary jurisdictions” that violate the illegal immigration laws. He opposes Obamacare and wants it repealed and replaced. Is prolife and for women’s health programs that do not include Planned Parenthood services. He is pro Second Amendment protections including concealed carry and the Freedom from Intrusive Regulatory Enforcement of Arbitrary Registration Mandates. Roy is in favor of enforcing our immigration laws and strengthening our border.

Committee assignments: Roy serves on the following committees of the U.S. Senate in 2015-2016: Appropriations Committee, Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee, Select Committee on Intelligence, Rules and Administration Committee (Chairman), Joint Committee on the Library, and Joint Committee on Printing (Vice-Chairman).

A Comparison of the 2016 Republican and Democratic Platforms

A non-partisan guide on issues of concern to the electorate

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM	KEY ISSUE	DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM
"The Constitution's guarantee that no one can "be deprived of life, liberty or property" deliberately echoes the Declaration of Independence's proclamation that "all" are "endowed by their Creator" with the inalienable right to life. Accordingly, we assert the sanctity of human life and affirm that the unborn child has a fundamental right to life which cannot be infringed. We support a human life amendment to the Constitution and legislation to make clear that the Fourteenth Amendment's protections apply to children before birth." (p.13)	Human Life	"Democrats are committed to protecting and advancing reproductive health, rights, and justice. We believe unequivocally that every woman should have access to quality reproductive health care services, including safe and legal abortion—regardless of where she lives, how much money she makes, or how she is insured. We believe that reproductive health is core to women's, men's, and young people's health and wellbeing.... We will continue to oppose—and seek to overturn—federal and state laws and policies that impede a woman's access to abortion, including by repealing the Hyde Amendment." (p.37)
"We oppose the use of public funds to perform or promote abortion or to fund organizations, like Planned Parenthood, so long as they provide or refer for elective abortions or sell fetal body parts rather than provide healthcare." (p.13)	Planned Parenthood	"We will continue to stand up to Republican efforts to defund Planned Parenthood health centers, which provide critical health services to millions of people." (p.37)
"We support the appointment of judges who respect traditional family values and the sanctity of innocent human life." (p.13)	Judges	"We will appoint judges who defend the constitutional principles of liberty and equality for all, protect a woman's right to safe and legal abortion, curb billionaires' influence over elections because they understand that Citizens United has fundamentally damaged our democracy, and see the Constitution as a blueprint for progress." (p.25)
"We value the right of America's religious leaders to preach, and Americans to speak freely, according to their faith. Republicans believe the federal government, specifically the IRS, is constitutionally prohibited from policing or censoring speech based on religious convictions or beliefs, and therefore we urge the repeal of the Johnson Amendment." (p.11)	Religious Liberty	"Democrats know that our nation, our communities, and our lives are made vastly stronger and richer by faith in many forms and the countless acts of justice, mercy, and tolerance it inspires. We believe in lifting up and valuing the good work of people of faith and religious organizations and finding ways to support that work where possible." (p.19)
"We firmly believe environmental problems are best solved by giving incentives for human ingenuity and the development of new technologies, not through top-down, command-and-control regulations that stifle economic growth and cost thousands of jobs." (p.22)	Climate Change/ Global Warming	"Climate change is an urgent threat and a defining challenge of our time.... We believe America must be running entirely on clean energy by mid-century." (p.27)
"We support options for learning, including home-schooling, career and technical education, private or parochial schools, magnet schools, charter schools, online learning, and early-college high schools. We especially support the innovative financing mechanisms that make options available to all children: education savings accounts (ESAs), vouchers, and tuition tax credits." (p.34)	Education/ School Choice	"Democrats are also committed to providing parents with high-quality public school options and expanding these options for low-income youth. We support great neighborhood public schools and high-quality public charter schools, and we will help them disseminate best practices to other school leaders and educators. Democrats oppose for-profit charter schools focused on making a profit off of public resources." (p.34)

GIVING THE STATE A DOSE OF ITS OWN MEDICINE

Frustrated by dealing with a request from the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife for permission to access a creek on a landowner's property to document the decline in a certain species of unheard of frogs, the owner responded by developing a list of mandatory requirements before they would allow the department access to their property. Some of those requirements included:

They divided their property into 75 equal survey units with draw tags costing $8.00 per unit, which could only be purchased after obtaining a "Frog Survey License" costing $120-180.00.

If the department was successful in the "draw," they would be notified two weeks in advance so they could make necessary plans and purchase a "Creek Habitat" stamp. ($18.00 Resident/$140.00 Non-Resident). Additional draw tags were available for "Premium Survey" units at $8.00 per application. However, all fees can be waived if "Native Indian Tribal rights and status" could be verified.

Other requirements included a "Frog Habitat" parking permit ($10.00 per vehicle), an "Invasive Species" stamp ($15.00 for the first vehicle and $5.00 for each additional vehicle), and a Day Use fee, ($5.00 per vehicle).

The landowner's requirements went on to include specific times that the surveys could take place, gear to be used during the survey and frog capturing/releasing, and required online courses ($750.00). Without the fulfillment of the requirements, they declined access the their property, even though they "appreciated" the department's inquiry.

A Comparison of the 2016 Republican and Democratic Platforms

A non-partisan guide on issues of concern to the electorate

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM	KEY ISSUE	DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM
"We renew our call for replacing "family planning" programs for teens with sexual risk avoidance education that sets abstinence until marriage as the responsible and respected standard of behavior." (p.34)	Sex Education	"We recognize that quality, affordable comprehensive health care, evidence-based sex education, and a full range of family planning services help reduce the number of unintended pregnancies." (p.37)
"Any honest agenda for improving healthcare must start with repeal of the dishonestly named Affordable Care Act of 2010: Obamacare....To simplify the system for both patients and providers, we will reduce mandates and enable insurers and providers of care to increase healthcare options and contain costs." (p.36)	Obamacare	"Thanks to the hard work of President Obama and Democrats in Congress we took a critically important step towards the goal of universal health care by passing the Affordable Care Act (ACA), which has offered coverage to 20 million more Americans and ensured millions more will never be denied coverage on account of a pre-existing condition." (p.34)
"We condemn the Supreme Court's ruling in United States v. Windsor , which wrongly removed the ability of Congress to define marriage policy in federal law. We also condemn the Supreme Court's lawless ruling in Obergefell v. HodgesIn Obergefell , five unelected lawyers robbed 320 million Americans of their legitimate constitutional authority to define marriage as the union of one man and one woman." (p.11)	Marriage	"Democrats applaud last year's decision by the Supreme Court that recognized LGBT people—like every other American—have the right to marry the person they love. But there is still much work to be done." (p.19)
"We call for expanded support for the stem cell research that now offers the greatest hope for many afflictions — through adult stem cells, umbilical cord blood, and cells reprogrammed into pluripotent stem cells — without the destruction of embryonic human life. We urge a ban on human cloning for research or reproduction, and a ban on the creation of, or experimentation on, human embryos for research." (p.37-38)	Medical Research	"Democrats believe we must accelerate the pace of medical progress, ensuring that we invest more in our scientists and give them the resources they need to invigorate our fundamental studies in the life sciences in a growing, stable, and predictable way....We recognize the critical importance of a fully funded National Institutes of Health to accelerate the pace of medical progress." (p.36)
"We consider the Administration's deal with Iran, to lift international sanctions and make hundreds of billions of dollars available to the Mullahs, a personal agreement between the President and his negotiating partners and non-binding on the next president....Because of it, the defiant and emboldened regime in Tehran continues to sponsor terrorism across the region, develop a nuclear weapon, test-fire ballistic missiles inscribed with "Death to Israel," and abuse the basic human rights of its citizens." (p.46)	Iran	"We support the nuclear agreement with Iran because, if vigorously enforced and implemented, it verifiably cuts off all of Iran's pathways to a bomb without resorting to war." (p.43)
"The integrity of our country's foreign assistance program has been compromised by the current Administration's attempt to impose on foreign recipients, especially the peoples of Africa, its own radical social agenda while excluding faith-based groups — the sector with the best track record in promoting development — because they will not conform to that agenda. We pledge to reverse this course...." (p.52)	Foreign Assistance	"We will support sexual and reproductive health and rights around the globe. In addition to expanding the availability of affordable family planning information and contraceptive supplies, we believe that safe abortion must be part of comprehensive maternal and women's health care and included as part of America's global health programming." (p.46)

BASKETBALL AND BATHROOMS

A Gideon has appeared on the national stage in the form of Dan Forest, Lt. Governor of North Carolina. Note that both the NCAA and NBA have decided to pull their tournaments out of North Carolina, due to the recent "bathroom wars" fought in the state.

Regarding the NCAA, Forest insightfully writes: "The NCAA's action sends a message to every female athlete and female fan attending their events that their privacy and security in a bathroom, shower, or locker room isn't worth the price of a ticket to a ballgame ... For years, we've seen the NBA turn a blind eye towards women victims of domestic abuse at the hands of their star players. Why should we be surprised now at the NCAA continuing this pattern of discrimination and degradation of women? The line has now been drawn in the sand, first by Hollywood, now by the NBA and NCAA, either accept their 'progressive sexual agenda' or pay the price. North Carolina will not play that game. We value our women too much to put a price tag on their heads." NC Lt. Governor Dan Forest

Missouri Candidates State Elections

(See Page E-4 for explanations of endorsement organizations.)

Missouri's general election is scheduled for Tuesday, November 8, 2016. Those who won their primaries in August are included here with updates to endorsements and other information that may have not been available for the primary. With so much attention being paid by the mainstream media and other national and local outlets to the present race, it is important to remember that Missouri has a significant election with candidates for office who hold a wide variety of views and opinions on major issues facing this state: issues such as Right to Work legislation, expansion of Medicaid, education policy, taxation and economic growth, and much more. We encourage you to use this information to inform yourselves and continue to learn more about the candidates who are on the ballot this November so you can make a wise and informed decision. In an attempt to give a sense of candidates and positions, we have chosen to highlight what the candidates have put forward primarily from their websites with supplemental information on other details such as endorsements from partisan organizations, and ballotpedia.org and votesmart.org. Time and space limit the amount of information that can be spent on each candidate; for those candidates we have provided their websites for further information.

We have made every effort to be fair and non-partisan in our presentation of candidates, as we do not and will not endorse any particular person or party. We are, however, focused on issues of faith and education with regard to the government and who holds the offices which represent We the People; therefore our focus and guide in selecting information is based on the Constitution and the Divine Author on whose principles that document was created. With that in mind, please use this information as a guide and then use the available resources to further inform your judgment.

~~~ GOVERNOR ~~~

Chris Koster (Democratic)

BIO: Chris Koster was born August 31, 1964, in St. Louis, Missouri, and is currently in his second term as Missouri's Attorney General. He is a graduate of Saint Louis University High School, received his BA and JD from the University of Missouri and his MBA from Washington University in St. Louis. Chris has held public office for twelve years. From 2004 to 2008 he was a Missouri state senator. In 2008, he was elected attorney general, the position he currently holds. Koster worked as assistant attorney general before moving to Kansas City, where he entered private practice focusing on litigation. In 1994, he was elected prosecuting attorney in Cass County and was re-elected in 1998 and 2002. Prior to 2007, Chris was a member of the Republican Party but changed to the Democratic Party before running for Attorney General in 2008. ISSUES: Chris is a strong supporter of Obamacare and Medicaid Expansion.¹ Following an investigation by his office in 2015, he found nothing wrong with the way in which Planned Parenthood handled fetal tissue. Koster opposes Right to Work legislation in Missouri.²

Endorsements: Missouri Soybean Association (2016), Missouri Farm Bureau (2016), Corn Growers Association (2016)³; Fraternal Order of Police (2016)⁴, the National Rifle Association (2016), Planned Parenthood of the St. Louis Region Advocates, Inc. Teresa Hensley (Democratic)

BIO: Teresa Hensley was born February 5, 1959, in Neodesha, Kansas, and currently resides in Raymore, Missouri, with her husband Kenneth and son. She is Christian (Methodist). In 1981 she received her BA in History from William Jewell College. In 1991 she received her JD from the University of Missouri –Kansas City. She has served as Alderman for the City of Raymore in 1988 and worked as Cass County Prosecutor from 2005-2014. ISSUES: “As a former prosecutor, I saw the pain and the devastation families experience when they’re the victims of violent crime. I saw parents who lost children to drunk drivers, and children who lost their innocence to abuse. But I also saw the power of justice in action. I saw people begin to put their lives back together after justice was served in a court of law. That’s why I’m running. I have a unique understanding of the power and importance of the office of the Attorney General. As the state’s top prosecutor, I will seek justice with honesty and integrity for Missouri’s families.” – Source: campaign website accessed June 28, 2016.

Islamic Inroads

Islamic supremacists and their agenda for dominating the world known as Shariah are achieving a growing foothold in America. Alarming, those who believe Islam and [that] its repressive anti-Constitutional Shariah must rule the whole world, are making serious inroads in towns and cities right here in America – sometimes with our own tax dollars! Shariah-adherent Muslims are presenting themselves as followers of “religion,” and thereby, entitled to First Amendment protections under our Constitution. In fact, they are waging jihad (holy war) to force this country and the rest of the world, Muslim and non-Muslims like, to submit to their anti-constitutional legal and political Shariah code.

Here are some of the ways the civilization jihadist leaders are stealthily trying to take us down:

The Islamic supremacists are placing Muslim Brothers into positions as advisors to (and in some cases as employees of) our government.

Muslim Brotherhood operatives and their enablers are trying to use the “Common Core” curriculum – our children’s textbooks – to promote Islamic supremacism in our academic institutions.

The Islamists are working to insinuate Shariah into U.S. courts and establish their own parallel “Islamic tribunals” to subvert our rule of law and Constitution.

The Islamic supremacists are using our immigration system – especially our refugee resettlement program – to engage in what they call Hijra [Hegira], Muslim colonization, in America.

Some public and taxpayer-funded university gyms are now providing separate hours for male and female swimming – to comply with Shariah laws for Islamic followers.

A New Jersey judge denied a protective order to a Moroccan-American woman being systematically beaten and tortured by her Muslim husband on the grounds that he was just practicing his faith according to Shariah.

Frank Gaffney, Secure Freedom,
September 2016
